DS Trainer: Vlad Soare

Vlad has been a developer for ten years, focused mainly on applications using databases. He has experience as a developer, but also analyst, consultant and architect. Since joining IBM, nine years ago, he has been constantly involved in major ETL projects, internal as well as external, based on Informatica PowerCenter and DataStage (Vodafone and ANCPI in Romania, Interamerican in Greece, ING in Belgium, DAK in Germany, TaxOffice in the Netherlands, and others).

Vlad has also coached, mentored and helped many IBM colleagues ramp up, assuming on occasion also a team leading role.

He is a certified Informatica PowerCenter developer, certified DataStage developer, and has a lot of experience in data management.
